

Table of Contents

Abbreviations	7
Acknowledgments	9
Introduction	11
 Part I
Conceptual Foundations of Democratic Practice in Transnational Civil Society Networks	19
 1 Practice Theory: a New Perspective on Transnational Politics and Democracy.....
1.1 Defining and Changing Rules “as we go along”	30
1.2 Practicing Norms	36
1.3 Political Practice and Democratic Norms	41
 2 Participatory and Deliberative Democracy: From Equality Norms to Argumentative Rationalities
2.1 Participatory Democracy	45
2.1.1 Equality and Popular Sovereignty	46
2.1.2 The Triad of Participation, Equality and Freedom	48
2.2 Deliberative Democracy	57
2.2.1 The Epistemic Perspective on Deliberation.....	58
2.2.2 The Participatory Claims of Deliberative Democracy.....	63
2.3 The Prospects of Participatory and Deliberative Democracy for Transnational Civil Society Networks	67
2.4 Conclusions	73
 3 Representation and Democracy: Performing Control and Accountability.....
3.1 Authors, Personations and Organs	78
3.2 Democratic Norms and Forms of Representation	81
3.3 The Prospects of Non-electoral Representation for Transnational Civil Society Networks	88
3.4 Conclusions	97

Part II
Exploring Political Practice in
Two Transnational Civil Society Networks	99
4 Researching Practices	101
4.1 Methodological Assumptions of a Reconstructive Analysis	102
4.2 Qualitative Semi-structured Interviews	106
4.3 The Method of Reconstructive Analysis	109
4.4 The Cases	112
5 Political Practices in Transnational Civil Society Networks –
An Exploration	119
5.1 A Campaign for Better Working Conditions in the Garment Industry: the CCC	122
5.2 A Network for Environmental Protection Worldwide: FoE	128
5.3 The Political Practices of Representation, Participation and Deliberation	133
5.4 Conclusions	179
6 Situated Democratic Norms	183
6.1 Participatory Norms and Practices	185
6.2 Deliberative Norms and Practices	192
6.3 Representative Norms and Practices	198
7 Conclusions: Transnational Democratic Practice	203
References	207

Tables

Table 1: Analytical Heuristics of Political Practice	121
Table 2: Political Practices in the Transnational Civil Society Networks and Democratic Norms	183