

Table of Contents

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Editorial.....  | 113 |
| Igor Ahedo GurrutxagaBeyond the margins of neoliberalism: Biological and Neurological Foundations ofAction Research.....   | 115 |
| Miriam James-Scotter, Lixin Jiang, Cameron Walker and Stephen JacobsUsing action research to develop a real-time measure of job satisfaction in theoperating room setting.....                           | 138 |
| Thomas G. RyanAction Research as Pre-Service Teacher Inquiry Physical Education.....   | 154 |
| Tomás CanevariCo-construction of territorial and sociodemographic data in a poor informalneighborhood with high socio-environmental vulnerability in the city of La Plata,Argentina.....             | 171 |
| “Action research is not only a method.” 5 questions answered by MarianneKristiansen and Jørgen Bloch-Poulsen, authors of Action Research in Organizations.Participation in Change Processes ..... | 189 |